I'm a NO vote on the funeral board as well.

Every one can hear me answer the phone, since it's up front. I think I'll ask Rep. Berry to ask Gene Allison to comment on the previous speakers and then you leave and call in. Does that work? - pat

I'd like to if it's workable. The problem is I don't have good cell service where I have internet access, so I hafta walk outside the building to call. So I'll wait inside till it comes time for questions, then go outside to call. Can you answer my call first without acknowledging it publicly and give me a few seconds to listen in online so I'm up to speed with the current discussion? And then ask me to state my question or comment a few seconds later?
Thanks.

Will do - We'll try to pause for the opportunity to get the email. But that, too, is a delay. So do you want to call for questions of Deb and Susan? - pat

Pat,
The time delay in the broadcast makes things difficult. I started to call in because I wasn't sure you'd gotten my email that I was a NO vote. But then you read my comment so I hung up. But because there is a several second delay in the broadcast, you thought I was calling in after you read my comment. If I email you something, I guess you need to confirm that you got it and will just read the comment. And please explain to the committee off the record why we're having communication problems due to the time delay. Thanks. --- Joe
